E. BACKGROUND AND EXPERIENCE

Presentation of the organisation

AMEFE (Asociación Malagueña de Educación y Formación Europea) is a non-profit education association established in 2013 in Málaga, Andalusia (Spain). It works as an umbrella educational organisation: it runs a private VET school and a private adult education school, coordinates Erasmus+ mobilities for a consortium of schools in Málaga, and takes part in European mobility, job-shadowing, training, youth and cooperation projects.

Every year AMEFE hosts Erasmus+ groups and staff from all over Europe – mainly from Poland, Hungary, Lithuania, France, Türkiye, Romania, Slovenia, Slovakia, Italy, Germany and Greece – for job shadowing, school mobilities, internships, training courses and language courses in Málaga. Mobilities take place in schools from its own network, from nursery to secondary education and VET, and AMEFE provides the full support package: host school, accommodation, airport transfers, local transport, an optional cultural programme, certificates and Europass documents. Neither AMEFE nor its schools charge hosting fees.

AMEFE works closely with a network of more than 50 schools in Andalusia, covering more than 500 classrooms at every level: early childhood, primary, secondary, upper-secondary (bachillerato) and VET. Together with its own VET and adult learners (more than 300 learners of all ages), this network gives AMEFE direct access to learners, teachers, trainers and school leaders for mobility, needs analysis, co-design, piloting and validation activities.

Target groups: pupils, teachers and school leaders in its partner schools; VET and adult learners and their trainers; young people aged 13–30 (including young people from rural areas and with fewer opportunities) and youth workers, in Andalusia and in partner regions across Europe.

Aims of the association (according to its statutes)

- To inform about, teach and develop European programmes in Andalusia, especially those related to language learning and new technologies at any educational level.
- To promote educational programmes for entrepreneurs and citizens on the use of new technologies, and to provide information and advice on applying for European programmes.
- To carry out international activities that improve the educational and professional situation of Andalusia.
- To provide young people with information on EU initiatives and European mobility programmes, and to disseminate job and learning opportunities in other European countries.
- To bring the results of European educational projects and research closer to the general public.
- To develop services that enable intercultural and linguistic learning, and to promote European citizenship, cultures and values as a means of preventing racist and xenophobic attitudes.
- To promote debate on social problems such as unemployment, racism, climate change, poverty and social exclusion, and on the social inclusion of marginalised groups, including people with disabilities.
- To promote environmental education, sustainable development and awareness of climate change.
- To protect and disseminate the historical, artistic and ethnological heritage of Andalusia in Europe.
- To cooperate actively with institutions that share these goals and to encourage the exchange of professional experience with European stakeholders.

Activities and experience in European cooperation

AMEFE's team has worked on European projects for more than 12 years and has taken part in over 30 projects funded by the European Commission (Leonardo da Vinci, KA105, KA151/KA152/KA153, KA201/KA204/KA205, KA210, KA220 and KA227), with partners in Türkiye, Romania, Germany, Greece, Italy, France, Poland, Malta and Denmark. Topics include digital literacy, online learning, intercultural dialogue and social inclusion, employability of young people and NEETs, support for learners with special educational needs, environmental education, and the prevention of bullying and cyberbullying.

Since 2023 AMEFE has held an Erasmus+ Accreditation in the field of Youth (KA150-YOU-000169453). Under it, the association has carried out two 15-month accredited mobility projects (2024 and 2025 calls), the first with its final report already approved by the National Agency. Over the years its role has moved from mainly partner to, increasingly, coordinating organisation, taking the full project cycle through to approved final reports. Outputs include training materials and social-impact proposals produced by participants (for example, the hackathon results of the “Social Innovators” mobility).

As a member of the Spanish Confederation of Education Centres (CECE), AMEFE advises schools on Erasmus+ projects and can disseminate project results to more than 6,000 schools and over one million students in Spain.

Day-to-day work by Erasmus+ field:

- SCH – School education: coordination of Erasmus+ mobilities for a consortium of schools in Málaga; hosting of job shadowing for teachers and school mobilities for pupils (3 or 4 days a week at school); training courses for teachers and staff; school projects on digital literacy, early school leaving prevention, anti-bullying and inclusion.
- ADU – Adult education: courses and workshops in digital literacy, English, memory training, painting, yoga, gymnastics and Andalusian folk dances, focused on basic and digital skills, active ageing and social participation; four KA204 adult education partnerships and a KA220 on lifelong learning.
- VET – Vocational education and training: internships for VET learners in companies in Málaga (including tourism, automotive mechanics, logistics and warehousing, and elderly care), training for VET staff, and VET cooperation projects.
- YOU – Youth: youth exchanges, mobility of youth workers, youth participation and activities with young people from rural areas (Axarquía, Málaga), under its Erasmus+ Youth Accreditation.
- Across all fields: Spanish, English and Italian language courses; online, face-to-face and blended training in new technologies and Erasmus+ project management; logistics, accommodation and mentoring for incoming participants.

Working with participants with fewer opportunities

AMEFE has direct experience with participants facing economic barriers (long-term unemployed and low-skilled adults), social barriers (older people at risk of isolation, young migrants, pupils affected by bullying), geographical barriers (young people from rural areas) and cultural differences. Support measures include identifying individual needs before activities start (together with the sending organisation), adapted activity plans, reinforced mentoring, an additional accompanying person when needed, and adapted materials. AMEFE advances the costs of participants with fewer opportunities until reimbursement arrives.

Safeguarding, facilities and hosting capacity

- Safeguarding: Lourdes Valenzuela Lorenzo, a therapeutic pedagogue, is the designated person for the protection of minors, support of participants with specific needs and incident management. A risk and needs assessment is carried out with each partner before activities start.
- Code of Conduct: prevention of harassment, violence and discrimination; protection and well-being of participants, especially minors; responsible use of social media; formal incident-reporting procedure.
- Premises: activities take place at municipal premises made available by Málaga City Council (Edificio Lorenzo Muñoz, Calle Niño de Gloria, Málaga), accessible to people with reduced mobility, and in the partner schools.
- Accommodation: flats managed by the association, agreements with hostels in Málaga (HOMESPANIA) and youth hostels of the Andalusian network Inturjovent.
- European Solidarity Corps hosting capacity: up to 3 volunteers in individual volunteering and up to 9 volunteers in volunteering teams at the same time.
- Continuity: the Board (President, Secretary and Vice-president) was elected in 2023 for a five-year term; procedures, contacts and documentation are shared across the team.
